

Authors Mario P. Cloutier and Diane Sawaya Cloutier met in 1995, became romantically involved in 1998 and married in 2001. Their self-help book, ReLovenship™: Look Within To Love Again!, has been inspired by a constant realization: very few people succeed in attracting “the one” or their true soul mate after living through one or more serious breakups. Since that epiphany, they have set out on a mission to prove anyone can do it in spite of how many setbacks, heartbreaks or challenges that happened in the past.

Mario Patrick Cloutier is whom many would refer to as a self-taught, street-smart individual with a voracious interest in human potentiality. He worked 15 years in the pharmaceutical and consumer packaged goods industries at which he occupied numerous sales and marketing leadership roles. In 2002, Mario founded Xclamat!on Marketing, an award-winning boutique agency in which he acts as the Chief Creative Officer and Strategist.

Diane Sawaya Cloutier's constant desire to learn has led her to develop a passion for personal development and relationships. She has had a successful managerial thirty-year career with Fortune 500 organizations within the consumer packaged goods and medical industries. In January 2015, Diane ended an eight year tenure as the National Director of Sales of a global medical supplies company to focus full time with Mario on their new calling: ReLovenship™.

Diane and Mario are the proud parents of three great children: Noémie and Malorie, Mario's daughters from his first marriage, and Peter, who is Diane's son from her first marriage.